

Bio – Inge Kuschke

Inge works as an agriculture analyst at GreenCape, a NPO and Sector Development Agency, working on developing the Green Economy in the Western Cape through: sharing market intelligence, providing policy and regulatory advocacy and support, facilitating market access and networking & events.

She looks at technology and practices, which increases sustainable resource use in agriculture production, focusing specifically on precision agriculture, conservation agriculture, undercover farming and renewable energy.